SIMPLICITY OF A GOVERNOR

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 10.-The devoion of Gov-Elect George W. Hunt to Jeffersonian simplicity" has caused a conflict between Arizona's first state giving a detailed account of how he governor and the various Phoenix committees delegated to arrange for the statehood celebration and inauguration festivities.

Soon after his election. Mr. Hunt announced that his inauguration would be marked by Jeffersonian simplicity-that he would walk to the capitol, take the oath of office, deliver his inaugral address and assume charge of the state government. Notwithstanding this announcement committees made plans for a big celebra tion. The entire city was to be gaily decorated

Then came word from Globe that the governor-elect had disapproved the program. He refused to allow the militia to parade and the various committees were in a quandary. The plans of the chairman of the parade committee were shattered because the governor refused to ride to the cap-No one knew even if he would consent to review the parade. No one knowns yet.

Governor Hunt is expected to arrive today from his home at Globe and concerted effort will be made to get him to recede his position. In absence of definite word from Wash ington regarding the time of issuing the statehood proclamation the date of the inauguration program is uncertain.

INVESTIGATIONS AFFECT MARKET

New York, Feb. 10.—The professional trading element was in undisputed ontrol of the stock market this week. The largest financial interests apparently did not wish to take a decided stand, and outside participation in the market was so small as to be virtually a negligible factor. In the latter part of the week the market was dull and the movements of the leading shares was unusually nar-

Politics was an important consideration in reducing the volume of bust-Traders were uncertain as to what turn might be taken by the congressional investigation money trust. Another unsettling influence was the discussion of the bill for reduction of the steel tariff.

The Copper Producers' association monthly statement was more favorable than had been expected, and prices of the copper stocks marked up on the strength of the showing.

Exportation of nearly $10,000,000 gold bars to Paris was of little effect on the market, owing to the acumulation of idle funds here.
